Varthur Lake rejuvenation at snail's pace, say residents, as sewage continues to flow into waterbody amid unchecked encroachments and late desilting

Due to rapid urbanisation and subsequent deterioration of the waterbody, rejuvenation work began at the 445-acre Varthur Lake about two years ago. The work, however, has been moving at a snail's pace at the moment, BM's found out.

Some of the residents in the area, who have been monitoring the ongoing work at the waterbody, said though the desilting work has begun, the progress has been quite slow.

The rejuvenation work commenced back in 2020; however as covid-19 hit, the work was stalled, after which it restarted this year again. The residents further pointed out that it would be ideal if the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) completed the desilting work before monsoon season at the least. Or else, once the rains start, carrying out desilting would be much tougher.

Meanwhile, sewage continues to flow into the lake and the water quality is still not up to the standard, the citizens told BM.

It will still take years to arrest the free flow of sewage into the lake, the citizens added. "Arresting the sewage flow and treatment are still many years away. It was said by 2023, the sewage flow into the valley can be stopped. In 2021, the Bangalore Water Supply Sewerage Board (BWSSB) claimed that 97% of sewage flowing into the valley

Mahadevapura and East zones are reporting an increase in covid-19 cases in Bengaluru. BBMP special commissioner (Health and IT) KV Thrilok Chandra said there was a slight surge in cases though there was no surge in severe cases as most of the patients were reporting mild symptoms. On Monday, Bengaluru reported 82 cases out of 85 in Karnataka, with zero casualties.

Chandra said around 3,500 to 4,000 tests were conducted every day in the city. This is in sharp contrast with the third wave numbers when Bengaluru alone was conducting one lakh tests a day. Currently, the patients suffering from influenza like illnesses, Severe Acute Respiratory Infections and hospitalised patients are undergoing covid tests.

"Though covid symptoms are mild, immunocompromised or unvaccinated people are still at risk. In Bengaluru, more than 3 lakh people are yet to get a second dose of vaccine. So, we have formed special teams to call up these individuals reminding them of second doses. In the last few

Exam season: Students, keep the jitters at bay

With the CBSE second term papers in full swing, students return to writing papers old school-style amid a complete pattern change in exam format

It is testing time once more as the second term exams for Class X and XII in CBSE schools began on Tuesday. The exams – being held offline – also mark the return to the old normal way of education.

Teachers of CBSE schools said time management and presentation of answers hold the key to scoring well in the descriptive-type exams.

The transition to a descriptive-form of questioning has been a challenging one, according to students. Harini Rajan, a Class XII student, says, "We solved multiple-choice questions (MCQs) for Term 1. In Term 2, our understanding of concepts will be tested."

Many teachers complain that different modes of exams and the transition have affected the preparation for board exams.

Eunice, a maths teacher from a city school, said students found it difficult to change from multiple-choice-based questions (MCQ) to descriptive-type questions in just three months.

V K Varsha, a Class X student says her main challenge was not to panic during the exam. "The preparation time for term-2 exam is short. However, the mock tests, revision tests helped me prepare better for the boards," she said.

The most difficult aspect is writing an exam after a long break. We discovered that students now struggle to come up with coherent answers during the pre-board exams," said Sabaridasan, an English teacher from another school.

Some schools are also mentoring students individually to help them manage their time. "For Class XII, it will be like their first board exams. We conducted many practice tests and mock tests to give them practice in time management," said a school principal.

With an unforgiving summer in the city, students must stay cool, hydrated and nourished while preparing and sitting for the exams (pics for representation only)

What to wear

Wear thin loose cotton garments, preferably light-coloured. Wear shoes or chappals while going out in the sun. Cover your head, use an umbrella, hat, cap, bandana or any traditional headgear.

How to give it your best shot

For last minute revision, they should study at a table and chair. This will give students the feeling of an exam room-like environment and their state-dependent memory will improve.
They should properly assess their abilities, give more time to subjects that they feel are difficult.
They should focus on difficult subjects in the early hours of the day as the mind remains fresh at the time.
They should read notes made during regular studies. By doing this, more information can be gathered in less time.
They should maintain adequate communication with parents and family members and share any kind of problem with them.
They should be hydrated and eat proper food regularly. Walking, exercise or other means of relaxation is a must.
They should get proper sleep every day and especially at night before the exam. Waking up late at night can cause poor concentration and impaired memory the next day.
They should have a good breakfast and drink adequate water on the morning of the exam.
They shouldn't rush during the exam. Read all the instructions carefully several times.

Keep stress and heat at bay

Many students are appearing for an offline test after two years. They need to remain alert on heat exhaustion and also follow a few tips to beat the stress. Despite adequate preparations, undue stress during such times tends to adversely affect performance. They should sleep well, relax before appearing in the exam and also take care of themselves because of the heat outside

What do you do if you feel sick?

Try to get help if you feel dizzy, weak, anxious or have intense thirst and headache. Drink some water or fruit juice to rehydrate. Rest immediately in a cool place if you have painful muscular spasms and drink oral rehydration solutions in a cool place as soon as possible and measure your body temperature containing electrolytes. Medical attention is needed if heat cramps last more than an hour.

What to consume

They should drink sufficient water as and when possible, even if they are not thirsty. Use oral rehydration solution (ORS) and consume homemade drinks like lemon water, buttermilk, lassi, fruit juices with some added salts. They should carry water during travelling and eat seasonal fruits and vegetables with high water content like watermelon, muskmelon, orange, grapes, pineapple, cucumber, lettuce or other local fruits & veggies.

BBMP wages war on mosquitoes

Reducing breeding ground inside residences a challenge, says official

Health workers conduct malaria prevention survey (file pic)

Taking preemptive action against a slight rise in malaria and dengue cases, BBMP's health department is undertaking a slew of measures. Sudden rain spells in the city have led to water-logging in some areas, providing a breeding ground for larval and adult mosquitoes. While BBMP has been taking steps to control breeding of mosquitoes in external sources, it expressed a challenge in reducing the spread inside homes.

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) KV Trilok Chandra told BM: "We are conducting control measures for larvae and mosquitoes regularly. We are also performing a door-to-door survey to figure out the larvae index and also educating citizens not to store water for a long time, which facilitates mosquito breeding."

The BBMP is tackling the issue in a two prolonged manner – source reduction and educating people so that they don't contribute to the mosquito menace. Stating how BBMP managed to bring down the number of dengue cases in the city, Chandra said: "Last year, 1,800 cases were reported in the city and by March-end 2022, it reduced to 1,700 cases."

THE BITE THAT STINGS

There's a surge in malaria and dengue cases due to sudden spells of rain; doctors say stay alert

Bangalore Mirror on April 6 reported that there has been a rise in malaria and dengue cases in Bengaluru

Recently, Karnataka Health Minister K Sudhakar asked health department officials to take up the challenge of making Karnataka malaria-free by 2027.

The BBMP highlights that the challenge involved is not just limited to source reduction, but to providing for timely treatment and education of people as well. "People need to develop a better understanding of larva breeding. Many people think it only happens outside and in dirty water. Larval breeding can occur even inside houses due to improperly stored freshwater. Citizens should also actively participate in the goal by not contributing to the source," Chandra added.

BBMP spreading awareness to prevent people from adding to the mosquito menace

The special health commissioner stated that while BBMP can undertake various measures to tackle the breeding outside, areas within the purview of residents remain a threat. "We can spray outdoors to contain the diseases from spreading, but often residents are providing a breeding ground for it inside their residence premises. Breeding can easily take place in flower pots in gardens, aquariums, sultry items, abandoned items on rooftops among other places," added Chandra.

However, some residents complain that hardly any steps are being taken to curb the mosquito menace in their areas. "It's been more than three years that the practice of regular fumigation has been stopped," said Amith Nigli, a resident of Banaswadi. In the past, during mosquito breeding season, authorities would conduct regular fumigation. Most apartments are not in favour of the chemical sprays as it causes respiratory issues. However, they are slowly shifting to herbal sprays," said Odette Katrak, a resident of Bellandur.

Elvera Britto dies at 81

Former Indian women's hockey team captain Elvera Britto died in Bengaluru on Tuesday due to age-related problems. She passed away at the age of 81.

Elvera, the eldest of the three famous Britto sisters (others are Rita and Mae), ruled the domestic circuit from 1960 to 1967, guiding Karnataka to seven national titles.

She represented India against Australia, Sri Lanka and Japan.In 1965, Elvera became only the second women hockey player to be conferred with the Arjuna Award after Anne Lumsden (1961). Elvera was single throughout life like her sisters. Hockey India condoled the death of Elvera.

"It is saddening to learn about the passing away of Elvera Britto. She was ahead of her times and achieved so much in women's hockey," president Gyanendro Ningombam said in a statement. PTI

Cable claims youth's life

In a tragic incident, a 23-year-old youth was electrocuted after he came in contact with an Optical Fibre Cable. He was walking on a footpath at AECS layout in Sanjay Nagar.

The victim has been identified as Kishore, a resident of Geddalahalli. Police said that a private internet provider had installed a router a tree and cables were attached to provide broadband connection to the neighbouring house. However, one of the OFCs had come in contact with the live electricity wire. As the youth came in live contact with the cable, he died on the spot.

The residents were shocked over the event as the place of accident was close to a children's park where hundreds of kids play everyday. The family members have accused that BESCOM and the private service provider are responsible for Kishore's death.

City cycle lane to ride tech track for success

India's first artificial intelligence, sensor-based bicycle counter installed in Doddanekundi to encourage cycling in Bengaluru, counting one ride at a time

Sridhar.Vivan@timesgroup.com
TWEETS @sridharvMirror

While more cycle lanes are being added to roads in Bengaluru, many are under the impression that the existing lanes are underutilised. But cyclists don't yet have data to prove that these lanes are essential. It's not surprising that high-tech is seldom used in Bengaluru to encourage people to take up cycling or walking. But now, for the first time, sensors are being added to a cycle lanes and artificial intelligence will be used to count how many cycles use the lane. This is a pilot project, a collaboration between residents of Doddanekundi, DULT and Sensing Local, being performed on a cycle lane in Doddanekundi to encourage folks to cycle and walk. A digital counter attached to the lane displays the exact number of cycles using the lane every day.

"This is a live bicycle counter we built and installed under the SuMA (Sustainable Mobility Accord) project in Doddanekundi which is being funded by DULT. This is the first counter which we have installed next to the Outer Ring Road cycle lane. It counts the actual number of cyclists riding on the lane and service road while ignoring motorcycles and other vehicles. We're hoping that it will help plan more cycle lanes based on actual usage data and that it will make cyclists and the impact of the cycle lane more visible to everyone," Nihar Thakkar, an avid cyclist said.

The cycle lane in Doddanekundi (in pic) is the first of a few lanes fitted with a digital bicycle counter for the pilot project

Thakkar explained the cycle counter is powered by artificial intelligence and a machine learning-based algorithm that is able to distinguish between cycles and other vehicles to count only bicycle traffic.

"These kinds of digital counters exist in other countries; we had heard of it before. We are trying to encourage walking, cycling and public transport through this project, so the team thought it would be good to encourage more people to cycle," he said.

> "We're hoping that it will help plan more cycle lanes based on actual usage data – Nihar Thakkar, cyclist

Other cycle lanes in the city may too get such counters.

"We are looking to install it in a couple of other locations in Doddanekundi. The exact locations are still being finalised, but they will complement the cycle lanes we have proposed under this project," Thakkar said.

"It is high time technology-based solutions are used in streets and cycle lanes. We must use camera-based enforcement which will help the police and BBMP. This can be deployed across all cycle lanes. Recently, the department of urban land transport floated the Karnataka State Mobility Challenge 2022.

This hackathon will deal with challenges like developing a product for energy efficient sweeping of narrow lanes like cycle tracks, developing contact-less enforcement solutions to identify violations in cycle lanes, developing an app or online tool to help authorities capture accident information on site... and developing an intelligent grievance redressing system for public transport using artificial intelligence," said Bengaluru bicycle mayor Sathya Sanakaran.

Bengaluru-Mysuru highway to have helipad

The Bengaluru-Mysuru highway is set to become the first highway in the city to have a helipad. This helipad will come up near Ramanagara and will be used for emergency services and by VIPs.

A few highways across the city are planned to be developed in ways that fighter aircrafts can either land or take off from there. Recently Mysuru MP Pratap Simha confirmed that a proposal was sent to the union ministry for constructing three helipads. Of these, only the one near Ramanagara was granted permission. Sources said in case of any accident or emergency if patients have to be ferried, helicopters can be used. However, many towns along the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway didn't have the provision for a helipad. Hence, this helipad can be helpful in critical conditions.

Secondly, the highways get blocked during VIP movement. In such cases, VIPs can take choppers.

As this is an access-controlled highway Simha said the highway will have entry and exit points in 16 places.

The first phase of the works involves six-laning of the road from NICE Road junction (near Kengeri) to Nidaghatta and has seen 90 per cent completion. NHAI is confident of opening this road to traffic by May. The second phase of the works from Nidaghatta to Mysuru Ring Road is 85 per cent complete and is likely to be finished by September.

The cost of the first phase is Rs 3,501 crore and for the second phase it is Rs 2,920 crore. This project will have five bypasses to avoid traffic congestion at the towns along the highway.

The Bidadi bypass will be 6.9-km, Ramanagara to Channapatna will be 22.35 km, Maddur 4.5 km, Mandya 10 km and Srirangapatna eight. Besides this, there will be an eight-km-long corridor along with nine major bridges, 44 minor bridges and four railway over passes.

Mysuru MP Pratap Simha inspecting a bow string girder bridge coming up near Bidadi

NHAI authorities claimed once the road is complete, it will be a 75-minute drive. A new lay-bye with amenities will be created at the Ramanagara bypass road. The toll booths will come up at Kumbalgodu and Srirangapatna. — Prakash VL

Spurt in drug-induced liver injury cases attributed to spike in OTC drug, herbal and homemade concotion use

mybangaloremirror
@timesgroup.com
TWEETS @BangaloreMIRROR

Rampant use of over-the-counter (OTC) drugs, herbal medication and homemade concoctions to prevent covid-19 has led to a spurt in drug-induced liver injury (DILI) cases in the city.

Health experts say during the pandemic, there has been a push to use herbal remedies that in excess can cause damage to the liver and even result in liver failure. As these are not regulated like other drugs, people were able to get them over the counter and use.

"There is a rise in drug-induced liver injury cases due to an increase in OTC self-medication and herbal supplement uses. The use of ayurvedic, naturopathy and other alternative medicines is also leading to liver damage," said Dr. Sonal Asthana, lead consultant, hepatobiliary and transplant surgery, Aster CMI Hospital.

Quite often people walk into the pharmacy and take OTC medications without guidance. Medical practitioners say, an underlying medical condition clubbed with alternative medication without guidance can lead to DILI.

"I had patients who were taking immunity boosters to prevent covid. These OTC drugs were taken for a long time, which led to acute hepatitis and Jaundice. Drug interactions and underlying medical conditions can lead to altered drug metabolism in the body leading to DILI. Taking complementary alternative medications without guidance is also a risk for DILI," said Dr Sandeep Satsangi, Hepatologist and Liver Transplant Physician, Apollo Hospitals.

According to health experts,

> People with comorbidities must consult with their doctor before taking any supplements

there is a shift in the incidence of liver disease in the relatively younger population too.

"We are witnessing a drastic shift in the incidence of liver disease in the age group of 35 – 45 years olds. While the majority of the recent cases can be attributed to polypharmacy to stave off covid, other reasons may be a sedentary lifestyle, obesity, high anxiety and stress. Binge eating followed by crash diets and excessive alcohol usage can cause liver issues too," said Dr Satsangi.

Liver problems usually don't show any specific symptoms. An increase in fatigue levels, abdominal pain and swelling and passing of dark urine are some indicators. Patients can develop jaundice and itching if the DILI gets severe. Experts say, some may suffer liver failure.

What to avoid?

Almost all drugs are metabolised in the liver and many of these can cause liver damage. According to experts, common drugs that cause DILI are OTC antibiotics, antituberculosis and some antiepileptic drugs taken without supervision.

"Many essential prescription medications like anti-hypertensive, anti-epileptic, and anti-tuberculous drugs can cause liver damage. This can occur in a dose-dependent manner or as an unpredictable reaction. Alternative medications if not given under supervision can also cause DILI," said Dr Kishore GSB, senior consultant, liver transplant surgery, Sakra World Hospital.

Experts say though home remedies such as giloy have some health benefits, if taken excessively and without being aware of underlying medical conditions, can lead to the development of Autoimmune Hepatitis (AIH). "It is important to have a discussion with your doctor regarding the risk and benefits of any treatment," said Dr Satsangi.

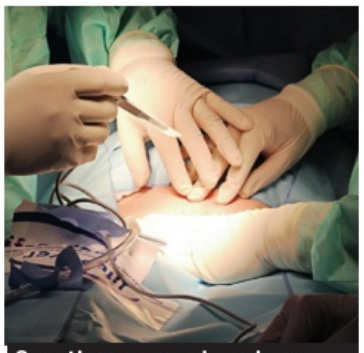
Wombs gone: Women walk for justice

Hysterectomy scam victims in Karnataka organise padayatra to CM Bommai's hometown

Lalita Basavaraj is one of many women in India who have had their wombs removed as part of a health scandal where women are advised to undergo a hysterectomy by unscrupulous doctors.

The racket is not new, and mostly, women from underprivileged sections of society are targeted. In Karnataka, a majority of them are from the Lambani and Dalit communities, and small clinics in villages and districts target these women to make quick money. Many of these victims take out loans to have the surgery, and get trapped in a debt cycle.



Countless women have been prey to this racket in Karnataka and beyond

While the government has taken a few measures to crack down on this scam, it is not enough. Now, hundreds of victims of a hysterectomy scandal in Karnataka on Tuesday have decided to go on a padayatra to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's native place of Shiggaon in Haveri district.

The protest march has been organised to condemn the apathy and negligence of the authorities as Rs 40 crore compensation sanctioned for the victims was sent back to the government without being distributed.

The victims, after walking a distance of 75 km, are slated to reach the town on Wednesday.

The agitators have declared that until Bommai personally arrives and assures them of release of compensation, they won't move an inch.

The women are also demanding action against a government doctor, Shanta, and termination of his license.

The agitators claimed that they have been protesting for seven to eight years for justice but they have not got any positive response.

The victims were allegedly subjected to hysterectomy unnecessarily by Shanta for money.

It is alleged that hysterectomies were conducted on 1,522 women. Investigations have shown that the uterus of an unmarried woman and a woman below 40 years of age were also removed for money and an organised racket worked behind the scandal.

According to Lalita, the operation has turned her life upside down. She can't work and her family members see her as a burden. "I will beg CM Bommai. "I couldn't even know what had happened, they took me and got the surgery done which rendered my life useless," she said.

The protest march has been organised to condemn authorities as the promised compensation of Rs 40 crore was never received by victims

Another victim, Manjavva, explained that she had to work and after the surgery, she had lost all her strength. The compensation was her lifeline.

"We need the compensation amount to be alive." —IANS

It's an elephantine problem! Villagers threaten to end lives

The residents of Maduvinahalli village near Nanjangud town in Mysuru on Tuesday have threatened to end their lives before the Forest Department office if the authorities failed to prevent elephants from destroying their crops.

According to them, the walls with iron pillars that was constructed to prevent elephants and wild animals from straying into the village collapsed, and reconstruction work incomplete, paving the way for elephants to wreak havoc.

Elephants cross over the broken walls and destroy trees & crops

Sheshappa, an aggrieved farmer, said that while they escaped a herd attack by a whisker, damage has already been done to their source of livelihood. "For the last three days, the elephants have destroyed banana and coconut trees. I am left with nothing. The forest officers simply come to the village, make us sign forms and disappear."

At the end, they will give us a compensation of Rs 500 or Rs 1,000 after we lose our entire crop. If this elephant menace is not stopped, I will go to the Forest department office and end my life there, he threatened.

"We have taken loans to grow our crops. Everything has been destroyed. The moneylenders will come to our houses and humiliate our families. The Forest Department should take some action," rued Shivarajamma, another farmer. In another incident, the villagers of Penjalli near Hunsur town in Mysuru also demanded a permanent solution for elephant menace. Two elephants wwhich were seen in the village on Tuesday morning created panic among them.

While the Forest Department officials were successful in forcing the elephants back to the forest, villagers are worried as they don't know when the elephants will enter their village again. —IANS

Good news for B Khata holders

After waiting for 16 years, there is good news for B Khata holders in the city. The government has finally directed BBMP to issue A Khata to the B Khata properties by collecting betterment fees. As per the suggested rates, the betterment fee for a site of 30/40 will be Rs 27,000 in the outskirts and Rs 22,000 in the centre of the city. The sites with dimensions of 60/40 have to pay Rs.55,000 and Rs.44,000 respectively.

Our report on the govt awarding an A khata to B khata holders

The decision was taken at a meeting headed by Chief Secretary P Ravikumar, after which a letter was sent by the Department of Urban Development to BBMP Chief Commissioner.

The BBMP will finalise the criteria for issuing the A Khatas and submit them to the Government. It will be implemented after the cabinet's approval.

There are 6.16 lakh B Khata properties in the city. Its conversion will help BBMP earn a revenue of Rs 2,000 crore and help the property owners get loans from nationalised banks.

The rule will allow plan approval, construction permit and acquisition certificates, but it can't stop construction of buildings. When B Khata properties are given to A Khata, then all the buildings must be constructed as per the rule.

The buildings constructed without the permission of the concerned authorities, the sites in illegal layouts, and the buildings are considered to be issued B Khata. Such properties are higher in number on the outskirts of the city. Even issuing A Khata will not resolve the issues related to the ownership and legal violations.

BBMP collects tax for 18.43 lakh properties. Among these, 12.26 lakh properties have A Khata and 6.16 B Khatas. —Prakash VL

Masks are back on

As news of a small covid spike reaches all, masks are back. A vegetable vendor at KR Market holds on to her mask on a brisk business day

PIC: KAUSHIK JN

Nod to Corbevax for 5-12, Covaxin for 6-12 groups

Aim to protect school-going children in the backdrop of emerging covid situation

#New Delhi

India's drug regulator has granted restricted emergency use authorisation for Biological E's covid-19 vaccine Corbevax for those aged five to 12 years and Bharat Biotech's Covaxin for children in the age group of six to 12 years, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya said on Tuesday.

The approval by the Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) for Corbevax and Covaxin for inoculating children below 12 years paves the way for giving protection to a majority of school going children and assumes significance ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's meeting with chief ministers on the emerging covid-19 situation in the country on Wednesday through video conferencing.

The DCGI has also granted emergency use authorisation (EUA) to Cadila for its ZyCoV-D for an additional dose of 3mg with a two-jab inoculation schedule 28 days apart for those aged above 12 years.

ZyCoV-D is, currently, approved for a 2mg three-dose vaccination schedule. The DCGI approval comes following recommendations by the Subject Expert Committee (SEC) on covid-19 of the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation(CDSCO).

The SEC had last week reviewed the application of Biological E and Bharat Biotech seeking emergency use authorisation for Corbevax and Covaxin for use in children of five to 12 years and six to 12 years age group, respectively. It also reviewed Cadila's application.

Biological E's Corbevax is being used to inoculate children against covid-19 in the age group of 12 to 14 years. Covaxin has been granted Emergency Use Listing (EUL) by the DCGI for the age group of 12 to 18 years on December 24, 2021. India began inoculating children aged 12-14 years on March 16.

So far, more than 2.70 crore adolescents have been administered with the first dose of covid-19 vaccine. The countrywide vaccination drive was rolled out on January 16 last year with healthcare workers getting inoculated in the first phase. Vaccination of frontline workers started from February 2 last year. – PTI

A BBMP marshal spells out covid norms through a megaphone in KR Market on Tuesday

PM to interact with chief ministers on Covid situation Wednesday

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will interact with chief ministers on the emerging covid-19 situation in the country on Wednesday through video conferencing, an official said. Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan will make a presentation at the conference. "PM Modi will interact with CMs on the covid-related situation in the country through video conferencing tomorrow at 12 noon," the official said.
With several festivals coming up, Prime Minister Narendra Modi had on Sunday urged people to stay alert to the threat from the coronavirus and continue to follow Covid-appropriate behaviour such as wearing masks and frequently washing hands.

Covid peak after June: Health Min Sudhakar

months, we have ensured seven to eight lakh people have got their second vaccine shots, after our reminders. BBMP has now requested the government to provide more staff," he noted.

"In the third wave, we did more triaging so that we could guide people whether home isolation is required or they should be sent to hospitals. If we want to restart, we need more staff including data entry operators, doctors and others," Chandra said, adding that the samples where the CT value (cycle threshold value) was between 25 to 30 were sent for genomic sequencing, besides sewage surveillance.

He clarified that there has been no drastic rise of cases among children. Though BBMP is not imposing any penalty for not wearing masks, marshals have been asked to create awareness and if the people fail to comply, then tough measures may be adopted.

Meanwhile, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said though the state was witnessing a slight rise in covid cases, there was no need to panic. Precautionary measures would be taken in border areas to control the pandemic.

Effective measures like screening at airports and precautionary measures especially at borders with Maharashtra and Kerala would be taken, the CM said. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is set to hold a video conference with the chief ministers of all states on Wednesday to review the covid situation.

(With inputs from agencies)

'Peak after June'

Citing a report by IIT Kanpur on a fourth covid-19 wave, state health minister K Sudhakar on Tuesday said the state will witness a peak after June that will remain till September and October. The minister said that IIT Kanpur had also published reports during the previous three waves, which turned out to be 'accurate and scientific'. "We have to start living with covid and it is possible through vaccination and wearing masks. It can keep you away from disease," he added.

Fate Of Varthur Lake: 'Desilt waterbody before monsoon'

had been arrested. But it doesn't look like that, as 150 MLD of water is flowing into the canal. The water holding capacity of the lake has come down by 25% and desilting of the lake is a must to bring in a change," said Jagadish Reddy of Varthur Rising.

The lake is said to have been desilted over 40 years ago. "The desilting work currently underway is quite slow. More vehicles and workforce have to be deployed for the work to speed up. Before the monsoon starts the desilting should be done. Or else, it is going to take a long time. The contractors assigned are not bringing in more vehicles to carry out the work quickly; even the BDA officials are not monitoring them," Reddy added.

There have even been several encroachments at the lake too that haven't been surveyed; even removal of encroachments haven't been ordered. Garbage continues to be thrown and is flowing in through the canals of the lake into the lake bed, unchecked. Though the foul smell emanating from the water has relatively come down, the water quality of the lake is in a bad state; the water itself is dark in colour.

"The authorities end up taking bribes from encroachers and do not carry out the demolition of encroachments at the lake site. They often claim the high court has given a stay order and they cannot do anything about it," said a resident.

As of recently, the once-beautiful Varthur Lake had turned into a body of water covered in hyacinth.

Post the desilting, works like strengthening of the lake bund and outlining the wetland area have to be carried out. Furthermore, most of the CCTV cameras installed have not been working.

Though the marshals deployed are continuously present during their shifts, they haven't been giving proper facilities for their safety, the residents noted.

Pan-India film? Sudeep has a small correction

Bollywood is struggling by dubbing in Telugu and Tamil, says actor

Dabangg 3' star Sudeep recently reacted to Yash's 'KGF: Chapter 2' being called a pan-India film. He also stated that Bollywood is reportedly struggling by dubbing in Telugu and Tamil.

At an event, Sudeep recalled someone telling him that a pan India film was made in Kannada. Stating that he would like to make a small correction, the actor added that Hindi is no more a national language. According to him, Bollywood is doing pan-India films today. They are struggling by dubbing in Telugu and Tamil, but the success is not happening. Sudeep also went on to say that today they are making films that are going everywhere. 'KGF: Chapter 2', which was released in the theatres on April 14, has been doing a record-breaking business at the box office. Apart from Kannada superstar Yash, the movie also featured Raveena Tandon, Prakash Raj and Sanjay Dutt in key roles. The film has received positive reviews from the audience and critics alike.

Sudeep, who has been a part of Hindi movies like, 'Rann', 'Rakht Charitra', 'Makkhi', was last seen in Salman Khan starrer 'Dabangg 3' where he essayed the role of an antagonist. It also starred Sonakshi Sinha and Saiee Manjrekar in lead roles.

Pricey nameplate!

Shah Rukh Khan, who has resumed work after almost three years, has been making headlines. Recently, it was not him but the new nameplate of his residence Mannat that has been hogging all the limelight.

Fans have been clicking pictures with the stunning new nameplate. And it goes without saying that his wife Gauri Khan, an interior designer, got the nameplate designed under her supervision. The cost of that nameplate is around Rs 20-25 lakh as Gauri wanted something classy. — ETimes

Who's in-charge here? Mira, of course

Shahid Kapoor has revealed an interesting detail about his family life. The actor, who tied the knot in 2015 with Mira Rajput, shared he is cautious about his expenses now.

When the actor was asked if he saves money or spends all of it, Shahid said that previously he used to spend all his money but now being a family man, he has to take permission and think about his expenses. The actor added that he doesn't take permission from Mira Rajput for his boys' trip and added that every guy deserves a boys' trip once in a while.

Shahid Kapoor's recent release 'Jersey' is not exactly enjoying a good run at the box office. The film has raked in approximately Rs 14 crore in its first weekend. Speaking about the ups and downs of his career, Shahid had recently told BT, "A lot of people were writing that my career was coming to an end. But, I never thought that way. When I was in my 20's I had that passion. I have lived my life. I was like.. let the world put me down, it will only work as fuel. Ease and success is more harmful than failure. My mom was a single mother. My parents were staying separate. I didn't tell anyone about my background. It is only after the release of my first film people realised I was Pankaj Kapur's son."

Dhanush's The Gray Man look

Streaming platform Netflix on Tuesday shared the first look of National Award-winning actor Dhanush from his Hollywood debut "The Gray Man", directed by Anthony and Joe Russo.

Dhanush is part of the Netflix film's ensemble cast, which also includes the likes of Ryan Gosling, Chris Evans, Ana de Armas, Rege-Jean Page, Jessica Henwick, Billy Bob Thornton and Wagner Moura.

The official Twitter account of Netflix India shared a still from the movie in which the 38-year-old actor can be seen in action mode on top of a car, sporting an intense look and blood on his face.

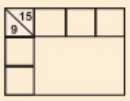
The numbers in the grey squares refer to the sums of the digits that you must fill into the empty spaces directly below or to the right of the grey square containing the number. For instance, in the given example, the 3 boxes horizontally next to 15 must contain 3 digits that add up to 15, whereas for 9, it is the 2 boxes placed vertically under it that must add up to 9. No zeros are used here, only the digits 1 through 9.



Note: A digit cannot appear more than once in any particular digit combination. For instance, in the example, we cannot have the combination of 4+7+4 for 15.

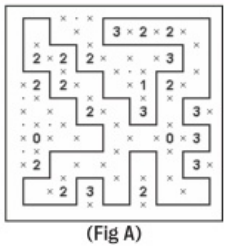
Loop

Rules

» Connect adjacent dots with vertical or horizontal lines, creating a single loop (Fig A). » Crossovers or branches are not allowed (As shown by dotted lines in Fig B). » Numbers in the puzzle indicate the number of lines that should surround it, while empty cells may be surrounded by any number of lines. » You can't draw lines around zeros. » Each puzzle has just one unique solution.



(Fig A)

How to begin:

Example (Fig A) – Begin with the zero next to 3. Since no lines can be drawn around zero, mark crosses around it, as shown. Now there is a cross in one space around 3. So we know the three lines of 3 can only be drawn in the remaining three spaces. Next, these lines can only be extended in one direction each. Continue, using the same logic.

Hints: Keep eliminating possibilities by marking crosses in spaces between dots where a line isn't possible, i.e., if you have already completed required lines or where a line extension may create a branch or cause a dead-end (Fig B)
